

GOOD NEWS!

Millions of Americans went to the polls to show their disgust and outrage with the whole direction the Bush Regime is taking us! But right now, as you read this, millions of Iraqis are not able to breathe a sigh of relief.

BE WARNED!:

House Democratic Leader Nancy Pelosi repeated that "impeachment was off the table" and has extended an olive branch to Bush!

Remember the Lies?!

Torture?!

Warrantless wiretapping?!

Unending war?

No! We cannot allow our newly elected Congress to compromise with someone like this!

Speak Truth To Power!!

Remind Democrats (and all our politicians) that...

1. The Iraq war was an illegal invasion and is now an illegal occupation based on lies and cooked intelligence. As a result over 655,000 Iraqis have died and are still dying. More and more U.S. troops are dying everyday. Democrats could cut funding or demand exit strategy.
2. People, citizens and non-citizens, can be unjustly detained and tortured in the name of the so called "war on terror" legally under the Military Commissions Act which the rubber stamp Republicans voted for. Do the Democrats really want to carry on this legacy by not holding the Bush Regime accountable? They could investigate this act and repeal it. (US military found that torture is not an effective way to gather intelligence.)
3. That Bush has illegally wiretapped Americans and is now trying to push Congress to vote on warrantless wire-tapping to make his past and present crimes legal! Another civil liberty of the American people gone! The Democrats could vote this down.
4. More states have now passed anti-gay marriage laws and reproductive rights are under assault. The people of South Dakota voted to overturn that state legislature's ban on abortion and yet the top Democratic leadership continues to promote anti-choice candidates and say women's and gay rights are not important enough to stand up for.
5. Bush has secret plans to attack Iran and right now U.S. warships sit off the coast of Iran. And a few top Democrats favor an attack if Iran refuses to drop its nuclear program. An attack on Iran would have catastrophic consequences in the Middle East and our European Allies. Don't be surprised if you hear news stories claiming that Iran has WMD's. This is the same type of rhetoric we heard before the invasion of Iraq. And do not be fooled.
6. Bush has nominated yet another long time friend of Bush family, Robert Gates, to be the next Secretary of Defense. Gates was investigated in his involvement in the Iran-Contra scandal of the Reagan era. And yet the Dems don't seem to be too alarmed. Will they be yet another rubber stamp Congress for Bush? Let's not let them!

Break the Silence!

Media Jam!..

1. Letters to the editor of your favorite newspaper or magazine on the above mentioned subjects. Comment on both positive and negative articles they may have printed. Contact television stations regularly: CNN, MSNBC, ABC, NBC, CBS, BET, etc. Even channels like MTV, VH1, and HBO have the ability to touch on politics!
2. We want to acknowledge those in the media who have been reporting comprehensively and truthfully on Bush's travesties (for example: Keith Olbermann of MSNBC, Jack Cafferty of CNN) with positive letters and emails. We should ask the media to do more comprehensive reporting on Bush policies that have had negative consequences for America and around the world. Ask them to do investigative reporting on Bush's plan to attack Iran. To give viewers the magnitude of the Military Commission Act and what that means for every American's civil liberties.
3. We need to ask them to cover stories that will show America and the world that people are rightfully outraged by Bush and his policies. For example ask them to cover protests/vigils/demonstrations and ask them to interview people at these events. Ask them to interview members of various peace/anti-Bush organizations.
